Client Gratitude:

"Hi. My name is Sassy and I would like to thank you for helping me pay for my vet visit. I had a real bad ear infection and my mommy needed help paying for my vet cost and I'm so grateful for your help. I've been feeling much better, no more scratching my ears and no more bad smell. Thank you so much. You guys are much appreciated."

A Note From Our Founder

I am excited to share an extraordinary opportunity for Feeding Pets of the Homeless; one that has the potential to amplify our mission on a national scale.

A producer and director in Los Angeles have approached us to create a 90-minute documentary highlighting the often unseen and deeply compassionate work we do every day; caring for the pets of people experiencing homelessness across the country.

This film will do more than tell our story. It will challenge perceptions.

Too often, the word "homeless" carries unfair stereotypes. The truth is, homelessness can affect anyone, people from all walks of life, each with their own story, circumstances, and strength. It is not an identity, but a situation, one that many are closer to than they realize.

At the heart of this documentary is something we witness every day: the powerful, life-sustaining bond between people and their pets. In the face of unimaginable hardship, these animals provide comfort, purpose, and unconditional love. Our work goes beyond providing free veterinary care. Every interaction is rooted in compassion, dignity, and unconditional love. Making someone feel seen and valued is one way we support our pet parents

As the filmmakers shared with us: "A home doesn't always have four walls; sometimes it has four paws. While filmmaking allows us to tell meaningful stories, it is our love and commitment to animals that drives us. Through every frame, we aim to honor their voices and bring awareness to their world."

With a gift of $50 or more, your name will be included in the film credits, forever recognizing your role in bringing this story to life. Your support will help shine a light on compassion, dignity, and the critical work we do together.

Success Stories That Matter

Highlighting Those Who Deserve It

Hi, my name is Lucky,

I'm a 3-year-old wire-haired terrier living with my dad in a tent on the streets.

One day while we were out on a walk, another dog attacked me. My right leg became swollen, and I could not put any weight on it. My dad was terrified seeing me in pain, but without money for a vet visit, he did not know how he could help me.

While an outreach nurse was helping people nearby, my dad asked if she could look at my injuries. She handed him a Feeding Pets of the Homeless business card and encouraged him to apply for help.

After speaking with a case manager, I was approved for veterinary care!

At the urgent care clinic, the veterinarian took X-rays and thankfully confirmed nothing was broken. My leg was bandaged, and I was given pain medication and instructions to rest while I healed.

Now I'm recovering beside my dad, getting stronger every day and looking forward to running and playing again.

Feeding Pets of the Homeless contributed $764 toward my care.

Free Pet Wellness Clinics Offer Hope

Access to veterinary care can make all the difference for pets and the people who love them!

Check out these heartwarming moments from the 2026 Free Duffield Pet Wellness Clinic in Dayton, Nevada, where pets received free basic veterinary care, vaccinations, spay/neuter vouchers, microchipping, pet food and essential supplies. Hosted by Feeding Pets of the Homeless, this clinic helped provide access to care for families experiencing homelessness or financial hardship.

Two wellness clinics in May were held in Reno and Dayton, NV and helped 198 pets!

Upcoming Events

Give a Dog a Bone Week Aug. 2-8

Give a Dog a Bone Week is coming this August, and businesses, organizations, community groups and individuals are invited to help collect pet food and supplies for pets of people experiencing homelessness. Hosting a pet food drive is a simple, meaningful way to support pets and their guardians while helping keep families together during difficult times.

Sign up to host a drive and Feeding Pets of the Homeless will provide resources to help get you started!
