A Note From Our Founder

Every day, we hear from people experiencing homelessness who are doing everything they can to care for their pets. They are choosing between their own basic needs and the care their beloved companion needs to stay healthy, safe, and by their side.

As inflation continues to affect the cost of food, housing, transportation, and veterinary care, the families we serve are being stretched even further. At the same time, the cost of providing emergency veterinary care has also increased. A visit that may have once been manageable can now quickly become out of reach for someone with little or no income.

For many pet parents experiencing homelessness, there is no cushion. When a pet becomes sick or injured, the situation is urgent. Without help, they may be forced to watch their companion suffer, surrender the pet they love, or go without essentials to try to cover the cost of care.

That is why your support is so critical right now.

Feeding Pets of the Homeless was founded on the belief that pets are family. They provide comfort, protection, purpose, and unconditional love during some of life's most difficult moments. Our work helps protect that bond by providing emergency veterinary care, pet food, wellness clinics, and support that keeps pets and their people together.

But we cannot do this work without you. As costs continue to rise, donations must keep pace so we can continue saying yes when pets need urgent care.

Your gift today helps us respond when a pet is injured, when a guardian has nowhere else to turn, and when the bond between a person and their pet depends on compassionate help arriving in time.

Please consider making a donation today to help us keep up with the growing need.

Success Stories That Matter

Highlighting Those Who Deserve It

Hi, my name is Molly,

I'm a 3-year-old Belgian Malinois living in a shelter with my dad. We are currently experiencing homelessness, but we make the most of every day together. I love chasing squirrels, playing ball, and spending time with my dad at the park.

One day, I injured one of my toenails so badly it was barely hanging on. My paw became swollen and infected, and it hurt too much to walk.

My dad was worried and reached out to Street Dogz for advice. They told him I would need veterinary care to remove the damaged nail so a healthy one could grow back. Since he could not afford the procedure, they gave him information about Feeding Pets of the Homeless.

After completing an online application, I was approved for care and scheduled to see a veterinarian.

The doctor took X-rays to make sure I had not broken any bones, then carefully removed my damaged nail. My paw was bandaged and I was given medication to help me heal. Now I'm recovering with my dad by my side, and I can't wait to get back to chasing squirrels and playing fetch again.

Feeding Pets of the Homeless contributed $705 toward my care.

Free Pet Wellness Clinics Offer Hope

More than 110 pets received free veterinary care at our recent Reno Wellness Clinic, and this video captures the compassion, teamwork, and care that made the day possible.

With support from the Dave & Cheryl Duffield Foundation, Galena Veterinary Hospital, Catholic Charities of Northern Nevada, Nevada Humane Society, and our dedicated volunteers, pets received wellness exams, vaccinations, microchipping, spay/neuter vouchers, pet food, supplies, and other essential services.

Take a moment to watch and see how your support helps pets stay healthy and by the side of the people who love them.

Behind the Scenes: Filming in Carson City and Reno, NV

Our documentary crew recently visited Carson City and Reno to capture more of the heart behind Feeding Pets of the Homeless.

From our headquarters to the people, pets, and partners who help make this mission possible, these behind-the-scenes moments are helping bring our story to life. The film will shine a light on the powerful bond between people experiencing homelessness and their pets, while challenging stereotypes and showing the compassion that drives this work every day.

We are grateful for everyone helping tell this story and for the supporters making it possible.

Upcoming Event

Give a Dog a Bone Week Aug. 2-8

Give a Dog a Bone Week is coming this August, and businesses, organizations, community groups and individuals are invited to help collect pet food and supplies for pets of people experiencing homelessness. Hosting a pet food drive is a simple, meaningful way to support pets and their guardians while helping keep families together during difficult times.

Sign up to host a drive and Feeding Pets of the Homeless will provide resources to help get you started!
